RitzHolman CPAs Joins the Greater Milwaukee Business Volunteer Council

Milwaukee, Wisconsin (March 3, 2011). RitzHolman CPAs, a Milwaukee-based accounting firm, has joined the Greater Milwaukee Business Volunteer Council - a coalition of 48 local companies dedicated to advancing strategic volunteerism as a tool to address business goals, community needs and employee interests.*

“By serving over 350 nonprofit clients, contributing to the quality of life and vital future of the communities in which we work and live is at the core of RitzHolman CPAs,” said Andrew C. Holman, CPA, partner of RitzHolman CPAs. “Approximately 80 percent of the firm’s workforce gives back and this partnership allows us to expand on our commitment to helping others. What keeps the volunteer spirit alive in us is the fact that the rewards outweigh the time spent. And with our expertise in the accounting industry, we recognize that we are in a unique position to assist the community.”

“We are pleased to welcome RitzHolman CPAs to our volunteer focused community,” said Debbie Knepeke, corporate and events manager at the Volunteer Center of Greater Milwaukee. “The firm’s community-minded culture interlocks well with the council’s belief that community service, social consciousness and good corporate citizenship make for stronger employees, businesses and communities.”
